James Harvey Wallace

James Harvey Wallace, age 93 of Daytona Beach, FL and Scarborough, ME died peacefully on December 4, 2013 in Port Orange, FL surrounded by family. Harvey was born to the late Clifford Wallace and Lucinda (Pease) Wallace on September 4, 1920 in Hollis, ME.

Harvey graduated from Buxton High School, ME and served in the United States Army during World War II. In 1947, Harvey married Florence (Michael) Wallace and moved to Lowell, MA where they raised their son James. The family moved to Greenfield, MA in 1964. Florence died in 1987. He retired from the Boston and Maine Railroad in 1980 after a 33-year career. He was a 32nd degree Mason in the Buxton Lodge #115 AF & AM, then later became a member of the Kora Shrine in Lewiston, ME.

Harvey lived an active and full life and he was grateful for the many friends he made over the years. He golfed and bowled into his 80s. He was an excellent card player and loved playing poker, gin, cribbage and canasta. He especially enjoyed reading John Grisham novels, and was a lifetime fan of the Patriots, Red Sox and Celtics. He was always quick to lend a hand to a neighbor, family member or friend embarking on a home improvement project and he enjoyed 'puttering' in his workshop. However, most of all, Harvey loved his family

Harvey leaves behind his wife Dolores (Vespi) Wallace, his son James Wallace and daughter-in-law Patricia Rissmeyer of Boston, MA, his granddaughter Jennifer Wallace of Northampton MA, his grandson Joshua Wallace and Josh's wife Bethany of Amherst, MA, his three great-grandchildren Madden, Holden and Laurel and many close family members in Maine.

A Memorial Service will be held at 11:00 am Saturday, December 14, 2013 at the First Congregational Church of Buxton/Tory Hill Meeting House, Buxton, ME.

We live in the Colonial Colony South community and bowled with Harvey on the community league. Harvey was an excellent bowler and was an unofficial 'coach' to new bowlers. We loved his sense of humor and easy camaraderie. Rest in Peace, Harvey.Our condolences go to all of his familySheila and Norm Fisher

Jim, Pat, Jen, Josh and family:Having the pleasure of meeting and calling Harvey family is a gift we will all treasure. His sparkling personality and his love for life was an amazing thing to witness, and we were very happy to share those times with him. He has touched the loving hearts of all whom he came in contact with and his spirit and memory will live on for decades to come. God bless you all.
